GENERAL INFORMATION

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

The University of North Carolina extends her heartiest welcome to the men who will make up her entering class this fall. This welcome is in no sense perfunctory, it comes from the hearts of students and faculty alike.

You are about to enter the fellowship of Carolina men and you should enter it with a definite purpose in mind. That purpose should be to strive for the best things, the finest things in every phase of your life here.

You want to make up your mind, first, to come out of college physically a better man than you enter it. Set your physical standards high; do not be content to be anything short of the best physical condition.

Strive, too, for the best the college has to offer you in an intellectual way. All of college training is not to be found in books, but a very important part of it is. Determine to make your mind the most efficient and capable instrument you can; sharpen it to a keen cutting edge.

Remember, next, that unless your spiritual development keeps pace with your physical and mental development, your college life will be a failure. A successful college career must be great in the spiritual as well as in the material things. You will soon find that the men who are regarded by your fellows as outstanding successes are men who think first of service, and secondly only of self, men whose sense of spiritual values is deep and keen.

Make up your mind to achieve a fine and worthy college career for yourself. But do not forget that to do this you must learn to put the interests of the college as a whole above your own desires.

You want to do your part in making your class the best class that Carolina ever had. And a great class, like a great individual, must become great through service to the whole of which it is a part.

Don't wait to enter into the fine things that college has for you. Start at once to make the right kind of friends, to get the most out of your classes, to enter freely into the campus life.

And above all, come to your work and your play here with the determination to put every ounce of your power into all the worthwhile things you will find to do here. The man who comes to college in a half-hearted spirit had better not have come at all. You will have to pay the price of classroom and campus success in good, hard, clean work. Make up your minds now to pay it and to pay it gladly.

Sincerely yours,

H. W. Chase,
President.

HIGH LIGHTS IN CAROLINA'S HISTORY

By Francis F. Bradshaw
(Dean of Students)

The University of North Carolina, provided for in the Constitution of 1776, chartered in 1789, her first cornerstone, that of Old East, laid October 12, 1793, and opened for matriculation of students January 15, 1795, is in point of actual operation, the oldest State University in America. The site at Chapel Hill was selected, after a careful survey of many sites in the central portion of the State because of its natural beauty, and because it was, at that time, the cross-roads of two main stage coach routes, running from New Bern to the west, and from Danville, Virginia, to the south, an historic situation which has been revived by the new State Highway System. Tradition has it that the party, headed by Gen. William R. Davie, took lunch under the great poplar, about fifty yards in front of the Alumni Building, now known as the Davie poplar and, therefore, for 133 years the center of the University campus.

Beginning with 41 students, in the year 1795, the University had by 1859 grown in size and prominence until its student body that year enrolled 456 students, coming from over half the states and including representatives of over 30 colleges. When President Buchanan honored the University with his attendance on commencement exercises that year he was so distinguishing the second largest University on the continent, and one whose reputation was without question. The senior class graduating that year numbered 125, a figure not reached again until 61 years later, in 1920.

Closed After War

Already in 1861 the student body and the whole institution felt the effects of the war, and by 1862 there were only 63 students wandering lonesomely about the campus, which had been accustomed to the tread of ten times that many. With an endowment of a quarter of a million dollars completely wiped out, with no students, with a faculty near starvation, and with the University Board of Trustees playing reconstruction politics with the institution, in spite of the labors and agony of those who loved her, the University was forced to close her doors in 1871, to reopen them four years later.

At the term of 1875-76, there were 69 students in attendance, and the laborious work of rebuilding was begun under the loving and skillful leadership of Dr. K. P. Battle. In 1877 the Law School was reopened. October 12th was set aside as a permanent holiday, celebrating the founding of the institution, and the first normal school for teachers was held in the summer.

First Appropriation

In 1881 came the first State appropriation ($5,000), except a small loan, afterwards made a gift, in 1791, nearly ninety years before. In 1882 came the railroad from University Station, to what is now Carrboro. By 1883 there were 205 students; the year 1885 saw the State appropriation raised to $18,000, and post-graduate courses established. In 1900, when there was celebrated the first quarter of a century since the reopening, there were 55 graduates, or nearly half as many as before the war. A steady raising of the standard of scholarship, distinction in scientific research, gradual growth in size of the institution planned and the extent of State support continued until with 1913 came the first beginnings of the great expansion period in which we still live and work. "Making the boundaries of the campus coterminous" with those of the State brought an increase in State support, an increase in State confidence, in national reputation, and in size of the student body. Again in 1917, as in 1861 the call of war thinned the ranks of the graduate classes and Dr. Battle must have thought of old sorrows as he heard read from the platform, in Memorial Hall, at commencement of that year, the roll of those who were receiving their diplomas in absentia, because they were in military camp. In 1919, after the effect of the war was over, the University doors were bombarded with the advance guard of an ever increasing army of youth, demanding, the country over, admittance to college education in ever increasing numbers. And so, in 1920-26, a student body previously counted in the hundreds has amounted to the thousands.

Spiritual Achievements

No short sketch can properly interpret the spiritual achievements of your Alma Mater. The first State University of America, she has been in many things a pioneer. She built the first astronomical observatory on this continent, conducted the first State Geological Survey in America, organized the first normal school for teachers connected with any college or university, and was the first State University in the South to offer citizens of its State a State-wide extension service. She was admitted in 1923, to the American Association of Universities, comprising a group of 26 leading institutions in America whose degrees are recognized all over the world, the only southern institution to be admitted to that organization since its formation. In the year 1924-25, the University held through its faculty members the presidency of four great national academic groups.

From those who would take pride in such a history, that history invites allegiance to the ideals which have made it worthy of pride. A high standard of scholarship, which insists on work well done, a broad belief in democracy in life to live and work together in comradeship without distinctions based on aught but merit, a belief in intellectual freedom and intellectual honesty which encourages tolerance and independence in thought, and a belief in the modern democratic state as the best form of government yet devised, and an insistence on conscientious citizenship as the great educational objective. These are her ideals which she invites us all to make our own.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

Out of the traditions of the past generations has developed the Honor System of student government at the University. Somewhere in the life of the University when student government was unknown there was planted the seed which were to germinate into the system we now have in operation. Through the assumption of responsibilities by students there grew up the idea of "to be expected" conduct of students, and every student was as zealous that his conduct should be that which was becoming to a University man as was the faculty. In this way student government developed, and the Honor System alongside, when student government was unknown in theory.

The Honor System simply means that every man is upon his honor to conduct himsef in a manner to be expected of a man and to report violations on the part of others. It has grown up in the life of the University on the assumption that men are more good than bad and, given an equal opportunity, will select the right in preference to the wrong, that self-government is necessary in an institution training for citizenship in a democratic state, and individual responsibility adds interest and effort on the part of the individual. The Honor System at Carolina is unlimited, and in this it differs greatly from that at other institutions. All students are on their honor to refrain from such acts as cheating, hazing, stealing, and gambling; in other words, they are on their honor to do the right at all times and to abstain from the wrong.

The Student Council is the organ of the student body and serves as judge in cases where there are those who violate the Honor System. It also attempts to act in any other capacity in which it may be of service to the student body or to any member thereof. This Council is composed of eight men: the president of the student body, chairman, elected from the student body at large, one member from each of the upper classes elected by that class, one member from each of the schools of law, medicine and pharmacy, and one member carried over from the council of the previous year.

The whole effort of those interested in student government at Carolina is for the purpose of making this a still better place to spend four years. Let us coöperate in the movement for better student government, better student life, and a more ideal place in which to work.

S. G. Chappell,
President Student Body, 1926-27.

LOOKING FORWARD TO SEPTEMBER 15

The Carolina Spirit

It is only a matter of a few days now until you too will be numbered among the elect—a Carolina student. The day is near when a new and greater spirit will grip you body and soul. It is this spirit that makes the men of men and lifts up the lowly to a higher sphere and the more worthy to a loftier plane. It is something that has withstood the test of time and the evil attacks of those unworthy to be called "citizens of Carolina." But unworthy as they were they could not deny that the spirit was there and that they felt it tugging at their inmost being to lift them up above the common herd.

And what is this spirit anyway? The Carolina Spirit, we say. The new-comer first sees it shining forth in all its glory of friendliness, open-mindedness, liberty, and freedom. Later this same new-comer discovers it in the clothing of character, sportsmanship in athletics, devotion to the duty of mental training and enlightenment, courage in resisting temptation, and loyalty to God. But it is the same spirit at heart.

You too will feel this spirit. And if you respond to its call of those higher ideals, life not only at Carolina but in later years holds in store for you that which is greater and richer for a more perfect life. Be a "true Carolina man" and let this spirit lead you on.

Packing Your Trunks

You are probably already wondering just exactly what you will need to bring to the Hill. The best answer is, bring the very things you need and would want at home. As a suggestion, however, be sure and bring your pillow case, bed linen at least two blankets, towels and laundry bag. Your room will contain only the bed, mattress, chiffonier, and table and chairs. A typewriter and dictionary would certainly find their usefulness. And don't forget your tennis racket, tennis shoes, white duck pants, baseball glove, and other athletic equipment. Many boys bring pictures (of the right sort, be sure, if you bring any), pennants, a dresser scarf, a rag rug or two, and a small table lamp. You will be largely judged not only by how you keep your room, but how you fix it up. It might be said here that in the rush you will probably be several days in getting your trunk. It will be best, then, to put in your suitcase one set of bed linen and those clothes that you will need for, say, three days.

Making the Trip

You may reach Chapel Hill by either taking the train or bus to Durham and catching a bus from there over to the University, or by buying your ticket direct to Chapel Hill Station. Coming by bus from Durham is by far the quickest and best way, as Chapel Hill station is more than a mile from the campus, and even from there you would have to take a bus. No matter what way you come, give your trunk check to one of the transfer men who will be asking for it at the station. By all means take the man's name, because it is not at all rare that delivery is delayed, and you might have the same experience. If you have a room, go straight to it and get located. You can afterwards get your key in the basement of Alumni Building. If you do not have a room, leave your suitcase at the "Y" and go over and see the Treasurer on the first floor of Alumni Building.

Registering

You must be sure and arrange things so that you will be in Chapel Hill on the morning of Wednesday, September 15, as registration begins at that time. This registration will take place in Memorial Hall. You will be given a schedule sheet on which you should mark the courses you wish to take and large placards will direct you in the manner of going about the rest. Don't rush. You would have nothing else to do anyway and you are bound to get registered some time. A bill for tuition will be sent you in a few days. Pay this immediately, because a failure to do so means you will be dropped from classes.

Finding a Place to Eat

In their places of eating, the Carolina students are about equally divided up between the three classes of eating places—Swain Hall, the cafeterias, and boarding houses. At any rate, you will find it best to eat at a cafeteria for the first few days. If you don't like one place, you can change around and try another. Swain Hall is run by the University on a profit-sharing basis and will cost you $22 a month. Most of the boarding houses charge $30. Eat a plenty of the right kind of food, because only in this way can you do your best work. And don't get the habit of not eating breakfast and eating just two meals a day. You will find these two things exceedingly detrimental to good health: going without breakfast and eating late at night.

A Little "Bull"

Get down to work the very first day and make up your mind you're going to stick to it. Don't get discouraged. There're plenty of dumb folks in college and you'll always find some a lot dumber than you are. It's the man that has to work hard for what he gets in college that is usually the greater success in after life. Industry will get you there at Carolina. And you'll find that the grades you get will be in proportion to the amount of time you study.

Consult Your Faculty Adviser

If you have trouble however much you study, consult your faculty adviser who will be assigned to you. Go to him anyway at least once a month and have a friendly little talk with him. He will be glad to see you always and can perhaps give you some good advice or help you solve your troubles. And make it a point to see the dean of the particular school you're in at least within your first month at Carolina and get your courses lined up for your future stay at college.

Put Your Studies First Your First Year

It's a guaranteeable fact that the man who does well scholastically his first year is the man who gets the most pleasure out of college afterwards. Don't be a book-worm. It's worse to be that than not to study at all. But with only three hours on class each day (no freshman can take more his first quarter) three hours of hard and real studying a day won't hurt anybody. You are expected to study two hours a day on each subject, but that's perhaps a little too much.

The Three Phases

Try to touch slightly on the other three phases of college activity—physical, religious, and social. Play several sets of tennis or get some form of exercise at least every other day if not every day. Don't go out for any of the freshman teams if that takes you too much away from your studies. If you can do both, fine. But get that exercise. It is the only thing that you ought to ever neglect your studies for, if needs be. But keep it from causing such neglect.

Go to church at least once each Sunday. Don't study on that day if you can possibly help it. Aside from the religious viewpoint, you need at least one day of real rest.

Too much social life has been the ruin of many a freshman. And the same thing may be said about participation in campus activities and organizations in the freshman year. These things are good in their turn, which should come in the sophomore year and up. They are also good in the freshman year if the freshman has the time. But study, study, study, your freshman year and put your studies and health first. You will be ever thankful for this.

FRATERNITIES

Definition

A fraternity might be defined as a group of men who have associated themselves together with the prime purpose of social fellowship. There are national, local, and professional fraternities at Carolina. A national fraternity is unlike a local fraternity only in that it is not a unit in itself but is only one of a series of chapters at various schools, and, unlike a professional fraternity, in that it takes men not only from one particular school within the University but from any school. A local fraternity is in most instances trying to become a member of a national fraternity.

Membership

Membership in any of these fraternities is by invitation, originating in the local chapter. A single man's opposing vote is considered enough to keep out a proposed new member. Although all the fraternities have the same aims and purposes in general, the various groups do not attach the same importance to different college activities. Some emphasize the moral and social standing of members, some their literary, athletic or scholastic attainments, and some even the families from which they come. But in practically all, congeniality and strength of character or force of personality are sought and cultivated.

The New Rushing System

Last year a new system of rushing was inaugurated by the Pan-Hellenic Council—the inter-fraternity council. This provides for a period of rushing lasting about six weeks, and at the end of which a period of silcnce is to take place. This period of silence is to last two days during which under no conditions may a man be rushed. Then the bids of invitation are given out through the office of the Dean of Students and a student is pledged to the fraternity he wishes to join or none at all. A man who is pledged to a fraternity does not become a member of that fraternity until he passes so much work and is initiated in the spring or later. Being pledged is about as binding as being a member. If at the end of the winter quarter a freshman has passed off five courses and made at least two "C's" (85 per cent) he may be initiated.

A Few Tips About Fraternities

It is by no means necessary or very important that you should be a member of a fraternity. Only about 18 per cent of the student body are members and some of the finest boys on the campus do not belong. You must consider, too, that much of college "meanness" may be attributed to fraternities, especially certain ones. Be sure to watch your step and by all means don't bind yourself to a fraternity whose members drink and whose moral code is low. Besides the bad environment, you will always be somewhat thought of in terms of your fraternity brothers. It may take all the joy out of the rest of your college career. You may not get a bid from the fraternity you wish to join at the end of the rush season. If you don't, wait until you do, because if you are deserving you will get it some time. You might wait until your sophomore year anyway to join if you feel you don't know enough about fraternities. You can judge better then.

It is not necessary that you belong to a fraternity to become a campus leader because of "pull" brought about thereby. As an illustration, the President of the Student Body and the Editor of the Tar Heel for next year are non-fraternity men. If you are rushed by a fraternity, go slow. Treat the fraternity cordially, but not over-cordially, and go to the house when you are asked, never otherwise. If you are rushed by a fraternity always treat the members friendly. But if you are absolutely positive that you will not join that fraternity, show a disinclination to that effect in one way or another and don't let the fellows rush you around and spend their time and money on you, only to say that you got a bid from that fraternity. To you who join fraternities, it is advisable not to room in the house at all your freshman year. This should be your year of hard study and you will have time for rooming in the house later. Say what you please, there's no getting around the fact that rooming in a fraternity house will distract you considerably from your studies.

Phi Beta Kappa

Phi Beta Kappa is the reward of the student who averages at least "B" (92½ per cent) on his studies for the first twenty-four courses he passes over a period of the first eight quarters. That is a man may make his scholastic fraternity at the end of the winter quarter of his junior year and be presented with a key before the summer vacation comes on.

Politics and Elections

Politics and election of campus officers are closely related to fraternities. A fight between the fraternity and non-fraternity men usually comes about in this. If you are a fraternity man don't be prejudiced against a non-fraternity man for an officer, and if a non-fraternity man don't be prejudiced against a fraternity man. Vote according to the true merits of a man. Educate yourself as to who is fitted and who is not. The outcome of the election last spring resulted in the election of some undeserving men largely because the facts were misrepresented by several fraternities to the unknowing freshmen who constituted nearly one-half of the student body.

Hazing

Hazing, in the true sense of the work, is a thing of the past at Carolina. It is strictly against not only the rulings of the Student Council, but the laws of the State as well. Yet there still exists a little merry-making, as it might be called, and once in a while a freshman is the object of a few innocent pranks. If you happen to be one of these freshmen don't fail to take your medicine in the right spirit. A poor sport is forever doomed in the eyes of his fellow students at Carolina.

In Conclusion

You will soon be your own boss. Nobody will be tagging around trying to make you work. So it's up to you, and to you alone whether you make a success or failure of your first year. And don't forget to put the emphasis on your studies. There'll be plenty of time for the organizations, athletics, etc., in your sophomore year and later. But determine right now that you will make a success, and a great success of your college course.

NEW PLAN FOR FINANCING THE Y. M. C. A.

In the past it has been the custom to raise the annual budget of the Y. M. C. A. by organizing a large team of upperclassmen into canvassing groups, and put on a three days finance campaign, attempting to call on every student in his room and thus solicit his support of the "Y." This plan has never succeeded more than half well, mainly because of the impossibility of ever finding all students in their rooms any one night. There were also several unpleasant features to this system: It was hard on the canvasser, disturbing to men at study to have the interruption, and generally disagreeable throughout the campus; in addition was the difficulty of collecting pledges made in this way.

The new plan to be used this fall (1926) should avoid all these objections. It is simply that there will be men in the registration line during fall registration, who will give every student who registers an opportunity to indicate the amount he wishes to give to the Y. M. C. A. He simply indicates the amount here, and pays it at the time all of his other fees are paid at the Treasurer's office. The Y. M. C. A. Treasurer will have a desk by the side of the University Treasurer and will collect at that time. This will greatly simplify matters; make it easier for the canvasser and canvassed; make sure of seeing every man in the student body, instead of half of them as has been the case in the past; and should insure bringing into the "Y" the full amount needed for the program laid out.

ORGANIZATION

The University Y. M. C. A. compiles with the standard form of organization. We have (1) a Board of Directors, composed largely of local residents, insuring continuity in responsibility and experience; (2) duly elected Officers, four in number; (3) The Cabinet, composed of the Employed Staff, the four Officers, and the Chairman of each Committee or Department, and in addition to this we have the Friendship Council form of organization for the freshman class, which form is also standard.

The Board of Directors is a self-perpetuating body (though its members may be subjected to the approval of the Active members of the Association). The General Secretary, President and Treasurer are ex officio members of the Board of Directors.

The Employed Secretaries are selected and employed by the Board of Directors.

The four Student Officers are nominated by the Secretaries and seniors of the retiring Cabinet, allowing the student body to add any other names they wish, and then election is determined by vote of the student body.

The Committee Chairmen are appointed by the Secretaries, the four officers, and the retiring members of the old Cabinet.

AGE AND EXTENT OF THE Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association is the largest student organization in the world. It is operating in 700 schools in the United States, with a total membership of 78,863.

The first Y. M. C. A. was organized in 1844 by Sir George Williams, in London, England. The first Student Association, was established in the United States in 1857, at the University of Michigan and Virginia. The University of North Carolina organized hers in 1860.

North America has 2,082 Y. M. C. A.'s, including all types, with a total membership of 920,000. Over the entire world there are approximately 9,000 associations, in forty-eight different countries, with a total membership of a million and a half with little less than 6,000 employed officers and a total property value of $175,157,700. Of the total number of Y. M. C. A.'s more than 700 of them are in colleges.

THE ASSOCIATION OBJECTIVE

1. "To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ as their Divine Lord and Saviour, according to the Holy Scriptures."
2. "To lead them into the membership and service of the Christian Church."
3. "To promote their growth in Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Bible."
4. "To train them for work and leadership in applying the principles of Christ to the problems of human society."
5. "To win their life devotion to the purpose of Christ for the evangelization of the world."

MEMBERSHIP

Membership is based on the above Objective of the Young Men's Christian Association in general. Those accepting this statement in full are known as ACTIVE members and are eligible to all privileges of the local Association, including office-holding. Those subscribing to these principes only in part, are known as ASSOCIATE members, and are entitled to all privileges of the local Association, except office-holding.

SUPPORT OF THE Y. M. C. A.

The University Y. M. C. A. has an annual budget of $12,000. One-half of this amount comes as a cash appropriation direct from the University administration. The remaining half is raised by the Student Cabinet through means of free-will contributions from students, faculty, alumni, and friends.

The Student body is, of course, the largest source of income for the amount the Cabinet has to raise. Of this $6,000 the student body is expected to contribute approximately $5,000. All other campus activities, including athletic tickets, subscriptions to publications, and intercollegiate debates, are paid with registration fees direct to the University Treasurer; the "Y" therefore being the only activity supported by separate appeal. During registration every student will be given an opportunity to indicate the amount he wishes to give the "Y." The "Y" Treasurer then will be in the "receiving" line along with the University Treasurer when all other fees are paid, to collect the "Y" pledge.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

The present "Y" building is well located in the center of the campus, though completely outgrown, for the size of the student body and the heavy use it gets. Our whole thought now is centered on a new and better equipped building and we hope to have such at a not far distant date. It is planned for the "Y" to raise money enough to add the south wing to the present Graham Memorial Building (the Student Activities Building) and occupy that wing, so as to be closely associated with the headquarters of all other activities.

THE 1926-27 PROGRAM

The University Y. M. C. A. is "An organization of the students, for the students, and operated by the students." It isn't expected that any one department of the program will appeal to all, or that all departments of program will appeal directly to any one student. So that, with the entire student body in mind, the program must of necessity carry very great variety. The chief mission of the Association is that of "drawing out of every man the highest, and best, and fullest there is in human life." This program is the visible, workable means to that end.

Departments of Program

1. Social Department. Receiving new students, providing entertainments; social leadership to students-at-large.
2. The Building. Home and Club House to every Carolina man; service office; reading room; parlor; committee rooms, etc.
3. Self-help Bureau. Providing employment and various forms of self-help assistance to over 700 students.
4. Information Bureau. "Y" Office is general information bureau to visitors, students and all, including long distance calls and telegrams.
5. Chapel. The "Y" has always had a leading part in taking care of Chapel.
6. Junior-to-Freshman Letters. Under assignment, Juniors write each Freshman letter of welcome before he leaves home in the fall.
7. Religious Meetings. Fifteen-minute daily Vespers at 7 p.m., with special program each Thursday evening.
8. Bible Study. Voluntary groups organized throughout dormitories and rooming houses. Every student invited to join.
9. Boys' Work. Students operating Scout Troops, Hi-Y Club and Knights of King Arthur. Study course in Boy Life and Boy Leadership.
10. Rural Work. Assisting with six rural Sunday schools, Boys' Clubs, etc.
11. Negro Work and Interracial Study. Janitors' Club, special speakers and discussion courses.
12. Ministerial Band. Club of ministerial students, meeting regularly, coöperating with Ministers' Association.
13. Missions and Volunteer Band. Club of all volunteers; special speakers, programs and study groups.
14. Speakers' Bureau. Bringing to campus world figures to speak on social and religious topics.
15. Deputation work. Teams of picked students visiting high schools of state with three days moral and religious program, music, etc.
16. Personal Work. Committee of six whose duty is to catch all personal cases of need and try to help meet the need.
17. Morning Watch. Band of fellows meeting at "Y" each morning before breakfast for prayer.
18. Freshman Friendship Council. A council of ninety picked freshmen, among whom remaining members of their class are equally divided, thus making perfect organization, meeting regularly, through which all "Y" program is carried to freshman class.
19. Life Work and Vocational Guidance. Special addresses on professions and callings; personal assistance to students on callings and life problems.
20. Evangelism. Special effort on individuals, groups and masses, to bring students to Christ's standard of living. Special meetings to this end.
21. Community Service. Visiting sick; daily bulletin on Infirmary, patients; serving other campus and community needs.
22. Finance Department. Cabinet responsible for raising half the budget.
23. Blue Ridge and Other Conferences. Blue Ridge the greatest intercollegiate event of each year. Carolina sent twenty-eight delegates last June. Delegates to four other religious conferences annually.
24. Publications and Literature. Publish Freshman Handbook, and Student-Faculty. Town Directory annually; distribute "Character-Building" literature throughout the year.

25. Music Department. Provides suitable music for all occasions.

26. Publicity Department. Advertise all meetings; give proper press publicity over the state.

27. Lost and Found Bureau. Custodians for all found articles; almost a detective agency after lost ones.

In addition to the stated programs above, it falls to the "Y's" lot to receive visitors, handle long distance and telegraph calls, and take care of almost everything that comes to the campus not assigned to a definite department or person—a catch-all for general matters and community troubles.

And Don't Forget—

That all of this service which the "Y" renders you costs money, and the "Y" depends on you for support. So when you are asked to contribute during registration remember what the money is going for.

STANDING CONFERENCES AND CONVENTIONS OF THE Y. M. C. A.

I. International Convention of Y. M. C. A. Meets once every three years, to which all orthodox associations in the world may send delegates.

II. World Student Volunteer Convention. Bears no organic relation to the Y. M. C. A., but the Volunteer Movement always works through the Y. M. C. A. in schools that have them. All schools, both male and female, may send delegates to this convention, the number based on the school's enrollment. Average attendance at this convention is above 5,000. The Volunteer Movement recruits and helps train workers for the foreign department of the Y. M. C. A. and the Foreign Mission Boards of all denominations.

III. Southern Student Conference. Meets annually at Blue Ridge, N. C., in June. Every student Y. M. C. A. in the ten southeastern states is urged to send delegates, without limit on the number. Conference lasts ten days and its purpose is to train for Y. M. C. A. work and general student activities. There is a similar conference for each of the other six regions of the United States.

IV. State Y. M. C. A. Convention. Meets annually, and each Y. M. C. A. in the state—student, city and otherwise—is urged to send a small delegation. They review the work over the state, discuss policies, etc.

V. State Volunteer Conference. An annual gathering of delegates from both male and female colleges, under the auspices of the Student Volunteer Movement, to promote the interests of Foreign Missions.

VI. The Field Council. Having three departments: National, Regional and State. Calculated to make for greater democracy in the Y. M. C. A. movement, and composed of students mostly. A definitely elected membership meets at stated times to discuss policies and plans and make recommendations to headquarters.

VII. The National Council. This National Council meets annually, and is the law-making body for all Y. M. C. A.'s in the United States. Representation to the Council is by states, three delegates allowed for every four thousand "Y" members within the state.

CHURCHES

CHURCH WELCOME

With respect to church life, you are not a visitor in Chapel Hill, for the five churches in town exist primarily for the benefit of students. Needless then to say you will be welcome, for the fact of the business is all churches are the students' very own, and the pastor, with the local people, will be very much disappointed if you are not a regular attendant. In each case the pastor is quite anxious to meet you, so look him up at first opportunity and make him your friend, for he needs your help and influence. He is Your church representative—Your pastor.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

All churches in Chapel Hill have the customary program of Sunday services: Sunday school; eleven o'clock preaching; evening service, and young peoples' societies.

The pastors are as follows:

Baptist Church. Rev. Eugene I. Olive, Pastor.

Chapel of The Cross (Episcopal). Rev. A. S. Lawrence, Rector.

Christian Church. Rev. B. J. Howard, Pastor.

Methodist Church. Rev. Walter Patten, Pastor. Mr. J. G. Phillips, Student Worker.

Presbyterian Church. Rev. W. D. Moss, Pastor.

University Sermon

Once a month some strong minister, generally from this State, and often a graduate of the University, preaches a "University Sermon" in Gerrard Hall. All denominations attend. On these Sundays all churches in the village hold no service.

CITY YOUNG PEOPLES' UNION

This union is composed of the young peoples' societies from all churches in Chapel Hill. That is the Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian and Christian churches; the B. Y. P. U., of the Baptist; Epworth League, of the Methodist, and Brotherhood of St. Andrew, of the Episcopal. The purpose of the union is to create and maintain a larger Christian fellowship among all young people of Chapel Hill churches. This is accomplished by having one union meeting each quarter with devotional program, and one with a social program.

COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS WORKERS

This is an organization whose membership is composed of all past, present and future religious workers in the city. That is, all ministers, retired missionaries residing in the town, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. secretaries, all ministerial students and all student volunteers. The Council of Religious Workers meets twice a month throughout the calendar year. Its purpose is to provide rich fellowship among all religious workers; to coördinate the religious work and programs of the town as a whole, and to see that no religious need of the community at large goes unattended.

ATHLETICS

THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Every Student a Member

The Athletic Association of the University of North Carolina is the student organization back of all athletics at the University. Every student is a member of this association, and in turn is entitled to all its privileges. As a member, you are allowed to attend all the games played by Carolina teams on the University field (Emerson Field) free of charge. This not only includes Varsity games, but games played by the freshmen teams as well. A small fee is charged in the regular registration fee to cover membership in the Athletic Association and other athletic privileges.

Going Out for the Team

The Carolina coaches encourage large squads, and all men are urged to go out for the teams whether they have had any previous experience or not. If you intend to ever make the Varsity it is important that you go out for the freshman team in your sport and learn the Carolina system of play as taught by the freshman coaches, all of whom are old Carolina Varsity men. The Carolina freshman teams line up attractive schedules and meet the freshmen teams of other colleges and the best prep schools. Freshmen are not allowed to play on the Varsity teams. Even if you are certain you cannot make the team, go out anyway. The exercise will do you good and you will make many friends on the squad and perhaps be surprised at your own ability before the season is over.

Election of Captains, Managers, and Cheerleaders

Under the rules of the Athletic Association the captains of the various teams are elected by the letter men in that sport at the end of each season. The managers are elected by the letter-men from a group of sub-assistant managers elected in their freshman year by their classmates. If you therefore aspire for a managership, you must start in your freshman year and work up. Any freshman is eligible to try out for sub-assistant cheerleader and four are elected by the student body. The student body also elects the two assistant cheerleaders from these four at the end of their sophomore year, and from the two assistants, the cheerleader is chosen for his senior year.

OFFICERS OF THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The officers of the Athletic Association are elected by the vote of the student body for the following year at the regular spring elections when all other campus officers are chosen. These officers, elected on last April 1, for 1926-27 are as follows:

BUNN (B. W.) HACKNEY.....President
RED (W. D.) WHISNANT.....Vice President
GUS (R. A.) MCPHERSON.....Representative at Large on Athletic Committee

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Athletic Council is composed of three members of the faculty, three alumni and three undergraduate students. The Director of Athletics, R. A. Fetzer at present, and the Graduate Manager, C. T. Woolen at present, are members ex officio. The officers for 1926-27 are as follows:

A. W. HOBBS.....President (Faculty)

Carolina Basketball and Track Champions of the South

The present stride that Carolina is making in athletics is trending to a day not far in the future when, if it is not already so, she will unquestionably reign supreme in the eyes of all as the unriveled athletic champion of the South. The past year witnessed and gives further proof of the fact.

From the Southern Tournament in Atlanta last winter, Carolina emerged undefeated. And this is not the first time Carolina has done this. It is the third time in the last three years and the fourth in the last five years that she has been the undisputed champion of the South, thus setting a memorable chapter in the South's athletic history.

During the past spring, Carolina had the distinctive honor of being host to the Southern Track Meet. But that was not the most distinctive thing about the meet for the University. She won the meet—the first since 1901—and two of her men broke Southern records.

Carolina also showed her mettle in football, and although she was not first in the final count, was rated as third among the universities south of the Mason-Dixon line.

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS

An Evil Overcome

It has always been the evil of inter-collegiate athletics to provide for the participation of the few—and these few are always the ones who really need less exercise than the rest and physically weaker students. In a program of intra-mural sports, the University has built up an institution for this latter class. Every man is given a chance to take part—ability or no ability. Great men have said that it is better to neglect your studies altogether than to neglect your health through a lack of exercise. In participation in intra-mural athletics lies your chance for exercise and recreation.

How It's Worked

Each dormitory and each fraternity has a team in the various sports that fill the year's program. Regular schedules are made out and the championship of the campus determined. All students except letter men are eligible for the teams. If you have never played before it will make no difference. Go out for the teams and get into the swing along with the rest of the intra-muralists. There is a manager for each sport appointed by the president of the dormitory. He will post a notice of the games and practices so you will know when they take place.

The Winners

A silver loving cup is given to the championship team in each of the sports. You will want your dormitory to win one of them. In addition, a loving cup is given to the individual who scores the most points during the year, points be given for participation in each game. The man who wins this cup is the champion Intra-muralist.

HARK THE SOUND!

(Tune: "Amici.")

Hark, the sound of Tar Heel voices
Ringing clear and true
Singing Carolina's praises,
Shouting "N. C. U!"

Chorus

Hail to the brightest star of all!
Clear in its radiance shine!
Carolina priceless gem,
Receive all praises thine.

'Neath the oaks thy sons, true-hearted,
Homage pay to three;
Time-worn walls give back their echo—
Hail to U. N. C.!

Though the storms of life assail us,
Still our hearts beat true,
Naught can break the friendships formed
At dear old N. C. U.

Refrain

I'm a Tar Heel born
I'm a Tar Heel bred,
And when I die
I'm a Tar Heel dead.

So it's—

Carolina, Carolina! Fight on former fame!
Fight, fellows, fight, fight! fight!
We'll win the game.

ON TO VICTORY

Marching marching, marching down the field,
On, on, on to victory.
Fighting, fighting, never will we yield
Till Virginia's team's all in.
Hail, all hail, to Captain Whisnant's men,
Score, score, score again.
The day has come, we've got 'em on the run,
And we will win.

RISE, CAROLINA MEN

Rise, Carolina men!
Give a CHEER for the team,
We'll get Virginia's goat;
They've lost all their steam.
